

The Atlantic World, 1450-1850

HIST 247 (sec 002) // Prof. R. Achebe // achebe@example-college.edu // Fall term

We meet Tuesdays and Thursdays, 1:15 til 2:30ish, in Harmon Hall rm 8. Occasional Friday film screenings (optional) at 4pm.

A note on grades: your grade is mostly the two papers (the first one is worth 20 percent, the longer research paper counts for a full third of the grade). Participation is another 15%. There are also weekly reading responses which together make up 15 percent, and a take-home final that covers the rest.

Some tables never survive a copy-paste. Here is what I could recover:

Paper 1		20
Research paper	.	33
Participation	..	15

Schedule (subject to change, and it will change): The first paper is due Sept 26. We do NOT meet the week of Oct 13 (fall break). The research paper proposal is due the Monday after break, i.e. 10/19, with the final research paper due December 4th. Reading responses are due most Fridays. The take-home final goes out on the last day of class and is due 12/15/2026 by midnight.

Readings: see the course reader. Week 1 is the intro; by the third week we are into the sugar economy. Midterm-ish check-in (ungraded) sometime around the second Friday of October.
